Request for Investigation of Newly Observed and Previously Unknown Genetic Trait

This document should be completed by a herdbook organization or similarity authority who believes they have substantial information about a potential new monogenetic trait that should be reviewed by WHFF.

1. Describe the new genetic trait?
2. What is the indication that this new trait is genetic?
3. Who is reporting this new genetic trait?
4. When did this new genetic trait first become observed?
5. Which animal is affected by this new genetic trait?
6. What is the name that this potential new genetic trait is being described as by your organization.
7. Do you have additional information about the new genetic trait that you would like to share?
8. What are your contact details?

Please send the completed report together with your contact details to worldholstein@gmail.com

Thank you for your time in reporting and requesting an investigation. WHFF will contact you to further discuss your observation.
